Lady Patricia Courtney, (Pat) died suddenly on November 20, 2016. The only child, of Gid and Naoma Coats, of Dexter, New Mexico.

Married to Walter Edward Courtney on February 18, 1956 until his death in 2004. They had three sons: Vincent Scott Courtney, Patrick Edward Courtney, and Walter Andrew Courtney (Andy). Three grandchildren: Amber Jean, Andrew, Patrick; and a great grandchild, Amber. Daughters-in-law: Linda, and June Courtney.

She raised her three young sons during her husband's tours of duty in Vietnam. She knew that great sacrifices are never forgotten.

Her husband was stationed in Japan two separate times and she traveled with him. She loved the Japanese culture.

She worked as a civil servant at various locations and volunteered for numerous causes dear to her heart, and which she received numerous commendations for a job well done.

New Mexico was only a state for 21 years when Pat was born. She remembered the alien spacecraft crash in Roswell and seeing the glow from the Trinity atomic bomb test. She went back to New Mexico to attend her 54th High school Reunion in 2005.

She was a member of Christ Church in Severn, Maryland. She loved to worship the LORD Jesus and the fellowship of its members.

Her family will have a Christian service at her interment with her husband at Arlington National Cemetery.

A classmate in March 17, 1946 wrote in her autography book:

Some people truly know how to choose a thoughtful card that warms the heart. Whether it was my birthday, Thanksgiving or Christmas...Pat always sent me lovely intricate cards... so beautiful in design and message that I kept them and frequently chose to use them year after year to decorate for the holiday. She will always hold a special place in my heart for that unexpected and sincere gesture. Pat was also one of the most appreciative people I've known. When she came to dinner or joined me on road trip to see my dad, she would find thoughtful ways to compliment my efforts. She commented on the holiday decorations, the food or the party decorations for my dad. Her comments added to the fun, her appreciation for my efforts filling me with joy that the event was a success. I will miss her. Now Heaven will enjoy her spirit at their events. :) Leslie Bridgett (Linda Courtney's cousin)
