But through it all did She not encourage you? Did She not strengthen you? Did She not amaze you? Did She not ease your burden and pain? When you loose your spouse, your partner, your friend you loose a part of yourself. God knows exactly how much we can bare. No more pain, No more, No more. Thinking back to Mrs. Myers' Speech class in 11th grade, I not only had the best debate partner EVER in Kate, I also was welcomed by the Bridgett family for the many hours of briefs, research, and teen angsting whining. Mrs. Bridgett was always kind, patient, and supportive. My heart goes out to the entire Bridgett family. God Bless,Chris Moore

To Jim, Megan & Kate and family, i am sorry for your loss of a wonderful wife, mother, sister, daughter, friend, grandma. she was a unique person. she always had a smile on. she never showed that she wasn't feeling good or anything was wrong. she was a strong lady. she was a role model to some, hero to few, a listener and helper to many. she always knew how to make people happy. i will miss her dearly, but i am glad i got to see her a few weeks ago. But she will be my guardian angel forever. kate and megan you remind me of your mom. I am sorry that i wont be there to hug you all but i am thinking of you all during this difficult time.

Hi Kate , Megan and Jim I am so sorry to not be there to support all of you on the day Debi's life is celebrated. Here is a poem I found that is part of what i feel in losing my best friend. It speak to her love of life, the family, especially her grandboys, all her little babies at the hospital that she helped nurture into life and the dream of her gardening carrer in retirement. It was writtten originally by Barbara Bailey on the loss of her beloved sister in law. MEET YOU AT THE GATE A beautiful garden now stands alone,missing the one who nurtured itBut now she is gone,Her flowers still bloom, and the sun it still shines,But the rain is like tear drops, for the ones left behind,The weeds lay waiting to take the gardens beauty away,But the beautiful memories of its keeper are in our hearts to stay,She loved every flower even some that were weeds,So much love she would plant with each little seed,But just like her flowers she was part of God's plan,So when it was her time he reached down his hand,He looked through the garden searching for the best ,Thats's when he found her, it was her time to rest,It was hard for those who loved her, to just let her go,But God had a spot in his garden, that needed a gentle soul,So when you start missing our friend, remember if you just wait,When God has a spot in his garden, She'll meet you at the gate... Always in my heart, Mimi

Mama Debi had no reason to like me. Katie and I would take Megan out partying with us. We stayed out too late and drank too much. None of us girls were ever the voice of reason. Yet she welcomed me EVERY time I came to the door. She was amused by our antics, and the only thing she ever said was "Make sure you look out for each other'!" We always did, partly because we knew we would have Debi to answer to if we didn't. She was a part of every milestone in my life, college graduation, wedding, birth of my boys. She will be missed very much but she will always be remembered. Jim, Kate, and Megan- you are always in my thoughts and prayers but especially now.

No words can describe how loving Debi was - to her family, friends, co-workers, patients. Her heart was made of gold. Her compassion to love and be loved was felt by all those around her. I am immensely blessed to call her my sister. She watched over me, took care of me, helped me realize my mistakes in life while never judging, her heart always open and full of love. I hold dear the memories of the life we shared, while I pray He mends the hearts of the ones she has left behind.
