Dustin Swalwell

FEB 29, 1980 - APR 10, 2024

Dustin Robert Swalwell, 44, passed away peacefully at Anne Arundel Medical Center in Annapolis, MD, on April 10, 2024.

Dustin was born in Pittsburgh, PA, on February 29, 1980, the son of Russlyn Dodson and Thomas Swalwell. He attended Warwick High School in Lititz, PA, and Anne Arundel Community College in Arnold, MD. In recent years he resided in the Annapolis area.

A creative soul, Dustin enjoyed drawing and writing. His warm hugs were readily given and well loved. His wry smile, easy laugh, and abiding kindness will be missed by his many friends and family.

Dustin is survived by his mother, Russlyn "Rusty" Dodson; brother, Aaron Grindle; sister, Gretchen Grindle (Geoff); nephews and niece, Heath, Shaw, Casey, and Reese; and beloved feline family members, Matilda, Henry, and Cozy. No viewing, visitation, or service is planned.

Charitable donations in Dustin's name may be made to the American Cancer Society (www.cancer.org) and/or the National Alliance on Mental Illness (www.nami.org).

My mom always talked about him dancing around our pool singing "What's Love Got to Do With It." And when we were kids, we made a band called "The Dust Busters" and he was our lead singer. I remember going to see fireworks on 4th of July after pool parties and banging pots and pans on New Year's in Port Vue.

All his life, Dustin retained the sweetness, kindness, and warmth that he displayed when I first met him, when he was just three years old. I'll miss laughing with him, sharing snarky asides, and seeing his fuzzy face at family gatherings. But I know he was suffering, more and more, as time went on. So more than anything, brother, I wish you peace. XO, Geoff

In 4th or 5th grade at Lititz Elementary I introduced myself to Dustin because he was sporting a Pittsburgh shirt and we quickly connected. We would later find out we were on the same T-ball team in Penn Hills in kindergarten after finding a team photo at his dad's place. I spent a ton of my teenage years running around with Dustin and the more time I take to think, the more I remember his impact on me and the people around him. You'll be missed old friend, much love! -Mike Crawford

Dustin was a beautiful human with deep insight and compassion. I worked with his mom (Rusty) for many years and when she left the Lancaster County area, we stayed in touch for the last 25 years remaining close as if she lived next door. My heart breaks for her loss. Dustin was an intelligent and amazing young man. At a very young age, I can remember talking with him and was surprised at the amount of maturity and deep thought he spoke with at such a young age. He marched to the beat of his own drum and that made him very special in this superficial world. He was so loved by his mom and brother, sister and their families. His mom was so proud of him and their closeness was unbeatable. My deepest sympathy for the entire family. I hope beautiful memories spent with Dustin will help them through this long hard journey of the grieving process and know that their beloved Dustin is at peace and will walk beside them until they meet again ❤️ Cindi, Charlie and Family
